Abstract

Start your Abstract here. The abstract is usually only one paragraph, with no more than 120 words. First line is not indented. This is the only part in the entire document that is never indented. And it is always on the second page of the document. Use only when the assignment requires an Abstract.
Title of the Paper in Title Case

First paragraph starts here. This is the actual beginning of the text of the paper. Give the formal, full title in Title Case, exactly as it appears on the title page. The first paragraph will usually be the introduction. Do not including a heading.

Add paragraphs as needed.

Start your last paragraph here. This should be the conclusion of the text, talking about your findings or results. This paragraph may have a heading.
